39th International Conference of the Polymer Processing Society (PPS - 39)

CIRCULAR #6: REGULAR DATE REGISTRATION DEADLINE APPROACHING

Cartagena de India, Colombia

May 19-23, 2024

PPS 39 Progress

On behalf of the Polymer Processing Society, Universidad de Los Andes, and Instituto de Capacitación e Investigación del Plástico y del Caucho (ICIPC), thanks everyone that has submitted their work. As the conference draws near, the PPS 39 preparation is well underway. The regular registration period is still active, and all presenters are invited to finish their registration process as soon as possible.

Scientific Program Draft Uploaded

The Scientific Program Draft has been published on the conference website. You can access it through the following link:

<https://pps39.uniandes.edu.co/scientific-program-draft/>

Please take into account that the program will be updated until we have the final Scientific Program. The Poster presentations are located at the end of the document.

Regular Date Registration Deadline Approaching

Please remember that the Regular Date registration deadline is on April 19th. After this date, "late prices" will apply for all types of registrations. To register please use the following link:

<https://pps39.uniandes.edu.co/tickets/>.

As the final scientific program is completed, it is necessary that all presenters are registered before April 30th. The presenter's registration is vital to maintain the abstract in the scientific program.

If you have any questions regarding your registration process, please email us to: pps39@uniandes.edu.co.

Poster Guidelines and Template Uploaded

There will be awards for the best two poster presentations for each session. The first place will receive 300 USD and the second place will receive 200 USD.

The poster guidelines & template has been uploaded to the PPS 39 Website. Please use them to create your poster presentation. The available formats for the Poster template are PDF and TIFF. You can download the poster template in the following link:

<https://pps39.uniandes.edu.co/poster-guidelines/>

If you have any inquiries or questions regarding your poster presentation, please contact PPS 39 Team.

Conference Paper Guidelines

The Conference Paper Submission Guidelines for the proceedings of the 39th International Conference of the Polymer Processing Society (PPS 39) have been published. Please use them to prepare your conference paper for its submission.

Take into account that the final date for the submission of Conference Papers is June 30th. Some General Format recommendations are:

- The document must be in Word Format. The file name of the paper should comprise the abbreviated paper Title, and underscore, and the relevant symposium.
- The font should be Times New Roman, Size 12.
- Insert Page Number in the bottom right corner.
- Maintain 1.5 line Spacing with Justified alignment.
- The title and headings should be in bold and centered.
 - Apart from Prepositions and articles, all words in the title, headings, and subheadings should have their initial letters in uppercase.
- Paragraphs do not have indentation and should be separated by a line break.
- Utilize IEEE citation style.

For more detailed instructions and the template for conference papers, please use the following link:
